

Finish the flower by drawing and coloring in the right side of the page.

The black-eyed susan is native to Minnesota and can be found along roads, disturbed fields, pastures and prairies. It has hairy leaves and stems. It is a host plant for silvery checkerspot butterfly caterpillars and the seeds provide food for goldfinches and other birds.

Sally Manzara Interpretive Nature Center
sminc-lake-elmo.org